STRAWBERRY JAM.—Put the fruit into a jar, and stand this in a pan of boiling water over the fire. As the fruit boils keep mashing the strawberries with a wooden spatula until they are all bruised to a pulp. Then put them into a preserving pan and to every pound add three quarters of a pound of sugar. Boil the whole until of the consistence which will occupy more than half an hour keeping the jam in constant agitation, lest the bottom should burn. When done enough take it off the fire and put it into pots.

GREEN GOOSEBERRY JAM.—Gather of the finest green gooseberries when quite ripe. Take off the tails and eyes. Put the berries into a jar, and set them in a kettle of boiling water over the fire until they begin to break. Then put them into a preserving pan. To a pound of sugar for each pound of gooseberries to which a little spinach juice may be added, if a very green color is required. Add it to the fruit and which you must break as it boils. When of the consistence of jam, put it into pots.

RED GOOSEBERRY JAM.—Take the eyes and tails from a quantity of red, hairy gooseberries quite ripe, and put them into a preserving pan with half a pint of red current juice to each half a dozen pounds. Let them boil until they are all broken and mashed which you must stir with a wooden spatula. Then for every pound of gooseberries add a pound of sugar, sprinkling it over the fruit. Let the whole simmer until reduced to the proper consistence of jam taking care it does not burn during the operation. Then put it into pots.

WHITE GOOSEBERRY JAM.—This jam is made with the large white gooseberry which must be quite ripe and fresh gathered. Treat it exactly in the same manner as directed for red gooseberry jam, omitting the red currant juice.

CHERRY MARMALADE OR JAM.—Take out the stones and stalks from some fine cherries and pulp them through a cane sieve. To every three pounds of pulp add a pint of currant juice, and three-quarters of a pound of sugar to each pound of fruit, mix together, and boil until it will jelly. Put it into pots or glasses.

CHERRY JAM.—Having stoned, and boiled three pounds of cherries, bruise them and let the juice run from them, then boil together half a pint of red currant juice, half a pound of loaf sugar, put the cherries into these, whilst they are boiling, and strew over them three-quarters of a pound of sifted sugar. Boil all together very fast for half an hour, and then put it into pots. When cold, put on brandy paper.

BEEF TEA.—A most excellent food for the convalescent is made of half a pound of lean beef, cut in small pieces, and soaked half an hour or more in a quart of cold water, and afterwards boiled a few minutes, stirring it a little as it begins to boil. Then pour it into a bowl upon a piece of hot, well browned toasted bread. Drink off the liquid, or eat toast and all with a spoon. The only seasoning allowed is a trifle of salt, or a very slight flavor from a red pepper pod. If there is a sense of chilliness in the patient, a whole pepper pod may be used, making the tea very fiery. It will then be a good sudorific.

EGG TOAST.—Soak some slices of stale bread in cream or milk, but not long enough to be come soft, then dip them in beaten egg, with a little salt, and fry a light brown with a little butter in a frying pan. Serve very hot for breakfast.

SCOTCH CAKES.—Three quarters of a pound of flour, three ounces of butter, three ounces of lump sugar, sal ammonia about the size of a hazel nut, warm the butter in a little milk and mix the whole into a stiff paste. Cut into small rounds, and bake in a cool oven.

TO DO UP KNITTED SHAWLS.—If the shawl does not require washing pin it out on the carpet with a clean sheet under it with damp towels, which, after remaining on it all night, may be taken off in the morning but the shawl must be allowed to remain pinned out for two or three days, after which it will have lost its propensity for curling at the edge. Should it be soiled and require washing, wash it in water a little more than lake warm, with white soap, which is preferable to any other. The white soap should be boiled and mixed up in the water before the shawl is put in. It is necessary to wash in two waters, and in rinsing, the water must also be above lake warm, so as to keep the pores of the wool open, to clear it entirely of the soap otherwise it will get thick and hard. Take about a pint and a half of warm water, and put two tablespoonfuls of dissolved gum arabic into it, mix the water and gum well together, dip in the shawl, and squeeze it two or three times in it, so that it may be equally all over, then wring it well out of this, and again wring it in clean linen clothes, pin it out square on a carpet until thoroughly dry, with a clean sheet or table cloth under it.

George Bowman, of Lancaster, Pa., had his coat and boots torn off by a stroke of lightning during a storm last week, and, singular to say, he was left uninjured. He had a pitchfork on his shoulder at the time. This is a tough story, but the Inquirer of that city, puts it off as truth.

Hayes, of the Savannah Republican, apologizes for an alleged omission in his journalistic duties, on the ground of a "pressure of illicit sales and smuggled cotton."

The Biggest Rat Story on Record—A Farmer Slays Three Hundred and Eighty-Six in His Own Cellar.

From the Dubuque Times

We are about to relate a strange story—one that might be doubted were it not supported by the testimony of numerous witnesses. The particulars were related to us by a friend in whom we have the utmost confidence, and will proceed to lay them before the public without further comment.

For some time past Mr. Jacob Monteith, an enterprising farmer, residing about ten miles north of Galena, has been grievously tormented by rats. These pests undermined his barns and granaries, destroyed his hen roosts and finally took possession of his cellar. So such an extent did they carry their ravages that it was impossible to keep anything in the provision line about the house. Nice sweet hams, stored away in the cellar, would be found next morning up in the garret, barrels and boxes full of holes, while clothing and other articles of more or less value turned up non est inventus.

At first our friend tried what virtue there was in cats, and procured a whole brigade, but the rats went in for the felines and after a number of pitched battles, cleaned the latter out, the cats returning to disgust to more congenial quarters. Next the services of some fullblooded terriers were procured, but for every rat that was killed a dozen took his place, until the terriers were even forced to give it up as a bad job, and actually refused to close their jaws upon another rodent. Going to Galena, Mr. Monteith procured about twenty traps, which he used for a while with great success, but the pests soon became shy, and refused to be caught. About six o'clock last Thursday morning the farmer went into his cellar to see how much game he had bagged during the night. In one of the traps he found a rat grey with age, who looked as though he might be the patriarch of the whole flock. Armed with a short stick he approached the trap when the impression dawned upon him that set up a piercing squeal. Stooping down Mr. Monteith was about to give his captive the coup de grace when, strange to relate, a whole swarm of rats attracted by the frantic squeals of their comrade ran out from their holes and holding a council of war, finally fell upon their enemy. After Mr. Monteith was somewhat startled at this novel proceeding, a happy thought came to his mind. The example of the Roman Curtius was followed, and he resolved that even so he would save the vermin who threatened to rat him out of house and home. With a bound he sprang among them smote them to the right and left, kicked, stamped and trampled upon them piled rats here, there and everywhere, ranged to and fro and leaped over his foes, but still the rats came on. They climbed upon his legs and back, bit his ears, hands, neck and face, until tired of the sport, and finding that he was severe bitten, Mr. Monteith beat a retreat up the stairway, leaving the rats in possession of the field. After the battle had ended, and reinforced himself with his wife and two elder boys each armed with a stout cudgel he descended into the cellar, determined to finish it out on that hot July morning. But there had got the worst of it, for when the party reached the scene of the conflict not a living one was to be seen—none but the dead and dying. The last three was one dispatched by merciful cuts of the bodies of the slain. They were found to number three hundred and eighty-six by actual count. The remedy was a sick no little difficulty but this was finally accomplished. Not a living rat has been on the premises since, and Mr. Monteith now congratulates himself being rid of the annoying pests. As before stated the story is a marvelous one, and from the fact that we have merely recited it as related to us, we have been led to think it a story we all like to hear.

Olden Times.

In times gone by people drank green tea and smoked snuff, went to bed when they pleased, slept in tights and slept on the beds with the curtains round them and had fresh air in their rooms as much as possible. Men were always dressed without it. And if they had a mind in the night they got up and put about in the dark and prominent fashion with much difficulty, with flint and steel and tinder box, and ample and sulphur matches, and went to an medicine chest, and took some laudanum, paregoric and camphor and jalap and rhubarb. In those days the fine gentlemen drank apple toddy in the morning and bitters in the morning, and lawyers took the clients to a side board for a dram, which the fine ladies lounged on sofas reading Byron and Moore and Scott. In those days, long before fire buckets were hung in the entries, filled with water, and when a fire broke out every citizen was a fireman. In those days gentlemen chewed tobacco indifferent where they expectorated, and ladies cleaned their dental pearls with snuff, and wore thin shoes and laced themselves into fashionable wasps and consumption. Babies were put to sleep with spanking and paregoric. Children were flogged at school, and subjected to all sorts of barbarous of chastisements. Picture books and toys were dear and poor. Big boys played hockey in the streets, with crooked sticks and hard wooden balls, which occasionally broke some unknown old woman's head. Women went home to their mothers to have their children, and were attended with opodeldoc. Street fights occurred between schools and school masters were pounded by the biggest boys. Young ladies learned nothing but formal and decorous conversations, or fast and furious Virginia reels, in wide entry halls, by the light of tallow candles that called for snuffers every ten minutes, to music by black fiddlers or cracked old jigging pianos, while mothers sat darning stockings, and fathers play 'Old Cockalorum, or gammed and swagged brandy and water, or came home late, roaring bacchanalian songs, and in quaffing of their sleepy wives in which brown jug the milk was wrapped up. Boarding school misses in calico gowns practiced the "Battle of Prague" or the "Caliph of Bagdad," or Clementi's "Sonatas," on instruments not much bigger than a modern young lady's traveling trunk, strung, with jingling wires that were always snapping, and occasionally chirped Tom Moore's "Melodies" or such airs as "Gally the Troubadour," or "Play, Pipe Stay a Little Longer," or "The Banks of the Blue Moselle he he belle." Guest sat on hard wooden chairs, sometimes with their feet up over the roaring wood fires "spittin' round and makin' themselves sociable" with juleps, egg nogg, apples and cider. Every man shaved, wore a beld rowned hat, swallow tailed coat with a horse collar, carried a turnip shaped time keeper in his waistband, with a heavy seal hanging out, had his breeches pockets full of silver half dollars, wore round toed boots and knee shirt collars, ate all manner of nauseous quacks medicines, dined at one o'clock, some families eating the pudding before the meat took wings in the afternoon—on Sundays preferring the pews for that purpose, smoked 'long nines,' ate fried oysters and lobsters salad and drank fiery Maderia or punch at twelve o'clock at night, got his feet wet on slushy days took awful colds and rheumatisms, sent for Dr Sangrado, and was bled, blistered and leeched, had night mares, head aches, dyspepsia, fever, delirium, death and darkened rooms.

Some scamp went into the cow yard of Mr Somerly, a farmer, living near Madison, Iowa and with a sharp instrument, probably a large knife, from the appearance of the wounds, cut five cows in such a manner that two of them died before morning, and it was thought to be very doubtful if they did not all of them die.

Lucius J Woodford, of Winsted, Conn, who shot his brother in law, James H Tuttle, in 1861, the result of a family quarrel of long standing, and was convicted of the crime and sentenced to the State Prison for life, was on Thursday released by the Connecticut Legislature. The Legislature was led to believe that the killing was done in self-defense.

A maiden lady has sailed from New York to Paris with a lap dog, in order to consult a physician there touching the pet's health. The dog is sixteen years old. The lady desires that he may live until he is twenty five. He has bronchitis and a cough. He is ugly. He looks like a dirty mop, but he is tenderly beloved by his mistress.

Queen Victoria believes in ghosts, at least a story current in London says that her mind has become so unsettled since the death of her husband that she believes Prince Albert's spirit always appears to her on his birth day (May 24) at Balmoral, and her late unexpected rapid flight from London to the haunted spot is thus reconciled for.

THE

TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

The following is a brief summary of the RIGHTS AND CLAIMS OF THE ROBERTS TORPEDO COMPANY, which rights they intend to enforce against all parties violating the same:

The rights of said Company consist of three Patents issued and granted by the United States to E. A. L. Roberts for explosion of Torpedoes in oil bearing rock, together with the assignment of six other Patents for the exclusive right to use Nitro-Glycerine and other powerful explosive materials for the uses and purposes in the other Patents mentioned.

In the various legal conflicts relating to the Patents above mentioned, volumes of testimony have been taken and some of the best legal talent in the country has been employed in opposition to the Company, but after a contest of over two years, it was decided by the Supreme Court of the United States that Col. Roberts was the first to discover the practicability and invent the means of increasing the capacity of oil wells in the oil bearing rock by exploding Torpedoes therein.

That since the organization of said Company, in order to protect their rights, it has been deemed necessary to commence suits against several persons, among whom are Alexander Hamar, Albert E. Nickerson, and Kent & Mellner, (operators,) and Senate & Parke, (manufacturers.) That during the trial of said several cases, the pretended claim of William Reed and others in relation to being the discoverers and first to apply Torpedoes in oil wells, was fully investigated, and notwithstanding the said pretended claim of Reed and others, judgment was obtained in the United States Court against the several parties defendants in said suits, and permanent injunctions issued against all of them. And in order further to protect the interests of said Company, suits have been commenced in the United States Court and injunctions obtained against Frederick T. Munson, of Reno, Venango county, Pa., and George W. VanVliet, of Pithole, in said county. And in addition to the above suits, in which injunctions have already been obtained, in order to protect the just rights and interests of said Company, a suit has been commenced against Sherman Camp, of Meadville, and proceedings instituted against the Reed Torpedo Company, of Reno, Pa.; William Reed, William Phillips Ralph Pettibone and J. B. Stubbs, officers of said Reed Torpedo Company, their agents and employees and all other persons known to have purchased Torpedoes of them, or any of them.

In view of the benefits resulting from the use of Torpedoes and the liberal patronage of the community, in order that all parties may avail themselves of them, this Company is prepared to furnish Torpedoes at a price much less than heretofore.

While the Company do not count litigation they deem it proper to place these facts before the public in order that innocent parties may not be led into difficulty by false statements of individuals, or circulars of Companies, who are pirating their rights, as suits will be immediately brought against all persons, who, either use or purchase Torpedoes of any except them or their authorized agents, as their Patents cover the exclusive right to explode Torpedoes in oil wells.

640 MILES OF THE UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD

Are now finished and in operation. Sixty miles of track have been laid this spring, and the work along the whole line between the Atlantic and Pacific States is being pushed forward more rapidly than ever before. More than twenty thousand men are employed, and it is not impossible that the centre track, from Omaha to Sacramento will be finished by 1869 instead of 1870. The means provided are ample, and all that energy, men and money can do to secure the completion of this at the earliest possible day, will be done.

The UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY receive

I.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of the right of way, and all necessary timber and other materials found along the line of its operations

II.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of 12,800 acres of land to the mile, taken in alternate sections on each side of its road. This is an absolute donation, and will be a source of large revenue in the future.

III.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of United States Thirty-year Bonds, amounting to from $16,000 to $48,000 per mile, according to the difficulties to be surmounted on the various sections to be built. The Government takes a second mortgage as security, and it is expected that not only the interest, but the principal amount may be paid in services rendered by the Company in transporting troops, mails, &c. The interest is now much more than paid in this way, besides securing a great saving in time and money to the Government.

IV.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of the right to issue its own FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS, to aid in building the road to the same amount as the United States Bonds issued for the same purpose, and no more. The GOVERNMENT PERMITS the Trustees of the First Mortgage Bondholders to deliver the Bonds to the Company only as fast as is completed, and after it has been examined by Government Commissioners and announced to be in all respects a first-class Railroad, laid with a heavy Track, and completely supplied with depots, stations, turntables, car-shops, locomotives, cars, &c.

V.—A CAPITAL STOCK SUBSCRIPTION from the stockholders, of which over Eight Millions have been paid in upon the work already done, and which will be more than paid as the wants of the Company require.

VI.—NET CASH EARNINGS on its Way Business, that already amount to MORE THAN THE INTEREST on the First Mortgage Bonds. These earnings are no indication of the vast through traffic that must follow the opening of the line to the Pacific, but they certainly prove that upon such property, costing nearly three times their amount,

ARE SECURE BEYOND ANY CONTINGENCY

The Union Pacific Bonds run thirty years, are for $1,000 each, and have coupons attached. They bear annual interest, payable on the first days of January and July, at the Company's Office in the City of New York, at the rate of six per cent. in gold. The principal is payable in gold at maturity. The price is $102, and at the present rate of gold, they pay a liberal income on the cost.

The Company believe that these Bonds, at the present rate, are the cheapest security in the market, and reserve the right to advance the price at any time.

NEW YORK.

Democratic Convention—Fourth Day.

TAMMANY HALL, New York, July 4, a. m.

The Convention was called to order at 10:30, Mr. Seymour in the chair.

The Hall was filled in every part, and many ladies were present. No prayer.

The reading of the minutes of yesterday was dispensed with.

Missouri called for a reading of the names of the National Executive Committee, which was ordered. [These were given in the morning papers for all the States except New York and California.]

Mr. Price, of Missouri, assumed the chair.

Mr. Bayard, of Delaware, said there was some mistake about the name recorded for that State, and asked that it be corrected in the roll. He was sure the name as published had not been agreed to by a majority of the delegates.

The list was read, and California named John Bigler, and New York named August Belmont.

Mr. Fitch, of Ind., rose to present one of its most talentented citizens as a candidate before the Convention for President, the nomination of one of the best and purest men of the nation.—Indiana had thought it right to cast her vote for a reasonable length of time for Pendleton, and in the opinions of a majority of the delegates, that reasonable time had passed, though a minority were still of the opinion that they ought to adhere farther to the gentleman of Ohio. The majority had no disposition, even if it had the power, to force their views upon the minority, and in conclusion, he briefly eulogized and nominated Chas. H. Hendricks.

Mr. Price, of Ind., from the minority, urged adherence to Pendleton, and expressed great respect for Hendricks, but the minority should not go for him because the State Convention of their state decided their preference for Pendleton against the most earnest and persistent opposition. In accordance with that preference, the delegation resolved to stand by Pendleton so long as there was a reasonable hope of his nomination. [Great cheers and some hisses.]

Mississippi went for Pendleton and on this ballot the vote of New York for Church was cheered.

During the roll call an Oregon delegate attempted to explain the vote of the delegation but was ruled out of order, as he admitted he had no new candidate. He said he only wanted to renominate Pendleton.

Tennessee gave 4½ for Pendleton from the first. The result was as follows.

California, Hancock 1½, Pendleton 3, Hendricks 1½; Connecticut, English 6; Delaware, Pendleton 3; Florida, Hendricks 3; Georgia, Pendleton and Hendricks 1; Illinois, Pendleton 16; Indiana, Pendleton 3½, Hendricks 9½; Kansas, Pendleton 2, Hendricks ½, Frank Blair ½; Kentucky, Pendleton 11; Louisiana, Pendleton 7; Maine, Hancock 4½, Pendleton ½, Hendricks 1; Maryland, Pendleton 6, Hendricks 1; Massachusetts, Hancock 11, Pendleton 1; Michigan, Hendricks 8; Minnesota, Pendleton 4; Mississippi, Pendleton 7; Missouri, Hancock ½, Pendleton 5, A. Johnson ½; Texas, Hancock 6; Vermont, Hendricks 5; Virginia, Hancock, ½, Pendleton 9½; West Virginia, Pendleton 5; Wisconsin, Doolittle 8.

EIGHTH BALLOT.

The result was then announced: English, 6; Hancock, 28; Pendleton, 156½. [Cheers.] Parker, 7; Packer, 56; A. Johnson, 6; Doolittle, 12; Hendricks, 75. [Cheers.] Blair, ½. Whole number of votes cast 317. No choice.

There having been occasional hissing in the galleries, the President announced that they would be cleared if it was repeated. [Cries of "good," "good," and applause.]

Alabama, Pendleton, 8; Arkansas, Hendricks, 5; California, Hancock, 1½, Pendleton, 3½; Connecticut, English, 6; Delaware, Pendleton, 3; Florida, Hendricks, 3; Georgia, Pendleton 8; Illinois, Pendleton, 16; Indiana, Pendleton, 3, Hendricks, 9½; (one half declined to vote;) Iowa, Pendleton, 8; Kansas, Pendleton, 3, Hendricks, ½, Frank Blair, ½; Kentucky, Pendleton, 11, Louisiana, Pendleton, 7; Maine, Hancock, 4½, Pendleton, 1½, Hendricks, 1; Maryland, Pendleton, 6, Hendricks, 1; Massachusetts, Hancock 11, Pendleton 1; Michigan, Hendricks 8; Minnesota, Pendleton 4; Mississippi, Pendleton 7; Missouri, Hancock 1, Pendleton 4, Hendricks 3; Nebraska, Pendleton 3; Nevada, Pendleton 3; New Hampshire, Hancock 3, Pendleton ½, Hendricks ½; New Jersey, Parker 7; New York, Hendricks 33, North Carolina, Hancock 1, Pendleton 4½, Hendricks 3½; Ohio, Pendleton 21; Oregon, Pendleton 3; Pennsylvania, Parker, 26; Rhode Island, Doolittle 4; South Carolina, Pendleton, 6, Tennessee, Pendleton 4½, A. Johnson ½; Texas, Hancock 6; Vermont, Hendricks 5; Virginia, Hancock, ½, Pendleton 9½; West Virginia, Pendleton 5; Wisconsin, Doolittle 8.

Mr. Seymour here resumed the Chair.

Pennsylvania, moved fifteen minutes recess, which was rejected. Ten minutes, however, were spent in general consultation before the call of the roll was ordered on the ninth ballot, and being taken resulted as follows:

NINTH BALLOT.

Pendleton, 144; Parker, 7; Packer, 26½; Johnson, 5½; Doolittle, 12; Hendricks, 8; Blair, ½. It will be seen Pendleton lost in Maryland and North and South Carolina. No choice.

The roll was called for the tenth ballot. When Connecticut was called the Chairman announced a vote of three for English and three for Pendleton. A member of the Connecticut delegation arose and denied this, insisting that the vote was six for English.

Mr. Eaton, of Connecticut, said he was Chairman of the delegation and entitled to cast its vote.

Mr. Seymour ruled that the delegations must settle these questions among themselves and ordered Connecticut to be passed by until she should agree upon her vote.

Subsequently her vote was cast, Hendricks 3, and Pendleton 3, and the result was announced as follows:

TENTH BALLOT.

Hancock, 34; Pendleton, 147½; Parker, 7; Packer, 127½; Johnson, 6; Doolittle, 12; Hendricks, 2½; Blair, 9.

The roll was called at once on the eleventh ballot, with the following result:

ELEVENTH BALLOT.

Hancock, 32½; Pendleton, 144½; Parker, 7; Packer, 26; Johnson, 5½; Doolittle, 12½; Hendricks, 90; Blair, ½.

On this ballot North Carolina gave her nine for Hendricks; New Hampshire split her vote between Pendleton, 1½; Hancock, 2½; Doolittle and Blair each ½.

Mr. Gibson, of Pa., offered a resolution proposing a nomination by acclamation.

Mr. Price being in the Chair, ruled it out of order.

A motion to adjourn was made and lost.

The roll was called for the twelfth ballot, when California fell off with half a vote for Chase.—There was great and long continued applause in the galleries, and a scene of confusion ensued, and a motion to clear the galleries was made from several delegations, mingled with cheers and hisses.

Mississippi said, excitedly, that the applause was from citizens of New York in the galleries.

A Wisconsin delegate opposed clearing the galleries. Some of these men had come thousands of miles who were in the galleries. They were Democrats and had a right to applaud when they please. [Great cheers.]

After some further confusion the roll was proceeded with and the result of the 12th ballot was announced thus:

TWELTH BALLOT.

Hancock, 30; Pendleton, 145½; Parker, 7; Packer, 26; Johnson, 4½; Doolittle, 12½; Hendricks, 81; Blair, ½, McClellan, 1; Chase, ½. No choice.

When McClellan received one vote from Tennessee the galleries applauded loudly, but not so long as when Chase's name was uttered by California.

A motion was made for a recess of fifteen minutes.

Valandingham moved it be for five minutes, which was agreed to.

During the recess Daniel W. Voorhies, of Indiana, appearing on the platform was loudly called for. Mr. Voorhies came forward but said it would be so manifestly improper in him to address the audience at this time that he only stood before them to bow his acknowledgments and no more.

The thirteenth ballot was taken with the following result:

THIRTEENTH BALLOT.

Hancock 45½; Pendleton, 136½; Parker, 7, Packer, 26, Johnson, 4½; Doolittle, 13; Hendricks, 81; Blair, ½; Franklin Pierce, 1; Chase, ½. No choice.

The following were among the changes on this ballot: North Carolina gave her 9 for Hancock, instead of Pendleton; Virginia changed solidly to Hancock instead of 9½ for Pendleton as before.

The 14th ballot was taken at once and resulted.

FOURTEENTH BALLOT.

Hancock, 56, Pendleton, 129; Parker, 7, Packer 26, Doolittle, 13; Hendricks, 81½.

Among the changes in this ballot were Nebraska, who went from Pendleton to Hendricks; Tennessee dropped Johnson and gave Pendleton 5½ and Hendricks 4.

On the fifteenth ballot Pennsylvania voted solid for Hancock. [Great cheering.]

FIFTEENTH BALLOT.

Hancock, 59½, Pendleton, 129½, Parker, 7, Johnson, ½; Doolittle, 12, Hendricks, 82.

The roll was called for the sixteenth ballot, and Arkansas changed 5 votes from Pendleton and 6½ for the man who when the war was over laid his sword on the altar of civil law. [Great Cheering.] Louisiana changed to Hancock. Mississippi did the same. [Cheers.]

The result was then announced.

SIXTEENTH BALLOT.

Hancock, 113½; Pendleton, 107½; Parker, 7; Johnson, 5½; Doolittle, 12; Hendricks, 70. The Kentucky delegation returned from consultation.

Mr. Seymour resumed the Chair.

Michigan moved a recess until five o'clock. Lost.

New York asked leave to retire for consultation.

The Chair announced that as Kentucky, Illinois and New York all desired to retire for consultation, business would be suspended until their return.

Objection being made the Chair said allowance must be made for the exhaustion of the Secretaries, and he therefore announced ten minutes recess.

On the 17th ballot Alabama led off with 5 votes for Hendricks; Arkansas followed with 8 for the same; Connecticut gave him 3; Kansas gave Hancock 1; Minnesota 2; New Hampshire gave him 5; West Virginia gave him 1.

Illinois answered after the general roll had been called and Mr. Richardson announced the vote of Illinois—Pendleton, 8½; Andrew Johnson, ½; Hendricks 7.

Before Kentucky and Missouri came in to vote Mr. Tilden, of New York, said the Convention had reached a point when careful conference and consultation between delegates is important, and he moved an adjournment as soon as the pending ballot should be decided.

Mr. Valandigham seconded the motion to adjourn. [Cries of "no," "no," "yes," "yes."] The vote on adjournment was demanded by States, but the roll call was suspended until the seventeenth ballot should be closed.

Kentucky come with 15 for Hancock and 5 for Pendleton, and the result of said ballot was announced thus:

SEVENTEENTH BALLOT.

Hancock, 135½; Pendleton, 90½; Parker, 7; Johnson, 6; Doolittle, 12; Hendricks, 70; Chase, ½; Hoffman, 3.

The question was taken on adjournment, which was lost—yeas 162¾, nays 120½.

The motion of New Jersey for a recess to 7 o'clock was lost.

The roll was then called on the eighteenth ballot and Florida gave her 3 to Hancock.

When Illinois was called, Mr. Richardson said his delegation was instructed to vote as a unit. On the last ballot he consented to divide the vote, but on this he should cast the vote as a unit, though against his opinion, for Hendricks.

A delegate from Illinois demanding to be recorded for Pendleton, Mr. Richardson withdrew the vote he had cast for the present on this ballot.

The Chair (Mr. Price) said by order of the Convention the chairman of each delegation was authorized to speak for the State. [Great confusion, but the Chair proceeded to announce the vote.]

EIGHTEENTH BALLOT.

Hancock, 144½; Pendleton, 56½; Parker, 3½; Johnson, 10; Doolittle, 12; Hendricks, 57; Hoffman, 3.

Mr. Seymour took the Chair.

The delegate from the Second District of Illinois insisted, as it was here in order, that each delegate to this Convention had a right to record his own vote according to his own views and sentiments, and he moved a resolution to that effect.

The Chair ruled the resolution out of order because in the Convention rules were adopted for the government of the Convention. He said that it had been decided in former Conventions that each State delegate had the right to determine the vote of the delegation as a whole.

Mr. Bayard argued that this was a strange view of the rules. This was a deliberative body and each delegate, he thought, had a right to vote for himself.

Mr. Clymer, of Pa., read from the proceedings of the Charleston Convention. The rule was adopted then which recognizes the right of each delegate to cast his individual vote, except where a State Convention has instructed its delegates how to vote.

The delegate from the Second District of Illinois claimed his right under this rule to cast half a vote for Andrew Johnson, whom he eulogized as a defender of the Constitution and rights of the people. [Great cheering.]

Mr. Richardson stated that the Illinois State Convention instructed its delegates to vote as a unit. She instructed them to vote for Pendleton, but a majority of the delegation have decided to go now for other distinguished gentlemen, and he considered it his duty to cast the entire vote in the delegation.

There was here another scene of great confusion, when a motion for adjournment was made and carried.

General News.

NEW YORK, July 8.

A Syracuse dispatch to the Tribune, speaking of the probable candidates for Governor at the Republican State Convention to be held to-day, state, after two or three complimentary ballots have been taken, Horace Greeley will undoubtedly be nominated, and will accept.

The World says the indications at midnight last night were that the Democratic Convention will not make any nomination to-day.

The Tribune says it is reported that Chase has endorsed the Democratic platform and his name will be started in nomination to-day by the Democratic Convention.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS

Senate.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 8.

On motion of Mr. Trumbull the Judiciary Committee was discharged from further consideration of the bill to allow Indians to testify in court in certain cases.

The Tax bill came up and a large number of amendments were offered, all of which were rejected.

The Committee's amendment increasing the number of special agents of the Internal Revenue Department from twenty to fifty was agreed to.

A long debate occurred on the proposition by Mr. Pomeroy to increase the tax on whisky to two dollars.

Recess.

House.

An evening session was ordered for Friday.

The House considered the Senate amendments to the Sundry Civil Expenses Appropriation bill, most of which were non-concurred in and a Conference Committee asked.

Mr. Schenck, stated the Military Committee would on Friday evening report a bill reducing the army nearly one-half. He also reported a bill establishing rules and regulations for the government of the Treasury, in connection with Indian affairs was passed.

A bill for the relief of loyal Choctaw and Chickasaw Indians, and directing the Secretary of the Interior to [illegible] the 20th and 21st of treaties of 1866, and to pay $10,742 to the Choctaws and $1,000 to the Chickasaws, was [illegible] and was held in order to have it [illegible] discussed.

Mr. [illegible] moved to lay the bill on the table. [illegible] the amendment to the Choctaw [illegible] Lost.

Finally the previous question was moved and seconded, but no vote was taken.

—The Republican County Committee of Erie have announced that the primary election will take place on the 11th inst.

—The corner stone of the new court house at Franklin will be laid with Odd Fellows ceremonies, on Wednesday of next week, July 16th. A grand time is predicted.

—McCarty, who murdered a man near Utica, Venango county, a short time since has just been arrested and is now safely lodged in jail at Franklin. He was captured near Girard, Pa., by two railroad men who knew him, and they received the reward offered for his arrest—$300 or $500.

—The Fourth was celebrated in Cleveland by a match game of base ball, five fatal cases of sunstroke, the drowning of a boy, one case of murder, two attempts at suicide, the sentence of Mrs. Victor to be hanged, the recovery of four bodies from the Morning Star, and a fine display of fireworks.

—The Keystone Good Templar, succeeds the Monthly Circular, as the organ of the Good Templars of this State. It is published semi-monthly at fifty cents for six months, and is a valiant champion of the temperance cause. All orders should be addressed to Miss I. E. Wright, G. S., Lancaster, Pa.

At present writing, 11 o'clock, p. m., the Democratic Convention had made no nomination and all speculation is idle. We give the full proceedings in our dispatches.

OUR FIRE DEPARTMENT, LEADING HOSE.—The Buffalo Express severely censures the fire department of that city for their ill-management at a late fire and attributes it to the defective condition of the house. New and old hose was, on that occasion, so mixed up that they would not work together, and there was a constant bursting of joints.

We are glad to know that Titusville is well supplied with good, reliable hose and plenty of it, hose that will stand the pressure and is well jointed. The Council have lately given an order for five hundred feet more of hose to match with that now in use, making two thousand feet in all. We propose an exhibition or friendly trial of our machines and hose, as soon as the weather moderates. Our fire apparatus is in good order, and the ranks of the companies are rapidly filling up.

"THE VOLUNTEER."—This is the title of a new weekly paper, which made its first appearance yesterday from the printing office connected with the Soldiers' Orphans' School. The principal object of its publication is to afford an opportunity to some of the soldiers' orphans to learn the art of printing. It will be devoted to temperance, morality, education and literature, and as the official organ of the school, will contain periodical reports of its progress, health, labors and deportment. The Volunteer is a creditable undertaking, and should be properly encouraged. The subscription price is $1.25 per year, delivered by carrier in the city. Everybody should be enrolled.

OIL CREEK & ALLEGHENY RIVER RAILWAY—CHANGE OF TIME.—On Monday next, July 13th, the passenger trains will arrive and depart from Titusville as follows:

SOUTHWARD—Accommodation, 8:10 a. m., Mail, 11:45 a. m., Express, 6:04 p. m. The new time table will be published Monday, and as soon as possible shall leave a time table for the subscribers and patrons of the MORNING HERALD.

THE SCHOOL EXHIBITION LAST EVENING.—A large and respectable audience attended the Exhibition of St. Bridgit Academy last evening, and were highly entertained by the essays, singing, dialogues, etc. The sacred drama of Esther elicited a good deal of applause, and was well rendered. By general request, the piece will be repeated to-night, with an entire change of programme, in other respects.

A Registry Law is Constitutional.

A majority of the Court think that a registry law properly framed is constitutional, and well calculated to prevent frauds at elections.—Pa. Justice Read.

The late decision of Chief Justice Thompson at Nisi Prius, assisted by his brethren, thus constituting practically a full bench, leaves no doubt that a registry law is constitutional, and that the present act, with a very few amendments, would be held to be a constitutional exercise of legislative power.

Two of the judges, Read and Agnew, held the present act, under a fair construction of its language, to be constitutional, whilst Mr. Justice Strong held all the parts of the law constitutional except those relating to residence, by which he thought more time was required than was consistent with the language and spirit of the Third Article.

The Chief Justice plainly intimates that a registry law properly worded may be constitutional.

Although, therefore, the plaintiffs in these bills have succeeded in having this act declared unconstitutional, they have entirely failed in having it declared that a registry law is unconstitutional; but, on the contrary, the Supreme Court have distinctly held that such a law is constitutional.

A bare majority of the Judges decide that the "Registry law" is unconstitutional so far as it applies to the city of Philadelphia, but the decision does not affect the operation of the law in other parts of the State. The Warren Mail advises Governor Geary to call an extra session of the Legislature for the passage of a corrected bill, based upon the suggestions of the Supreme Court. There are many good reasons for such a step.

The Boys in Blue.

The following stirring address has been issued by the Soldiers' Republican organization of this State, which has already commenced its labors, and will be heard from in due time:

HEADQUARTERS SOLDIERS' AND SAILORS' STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE, 1105 CHESTNUT STREET, PHILADELPHIA, July 4, 1868.

COMRADES:—When the rebel armies were overthrown and the rebel leaders forgiven by our magnanimous Chief, the whole world wondered at the generosity which pardoned men guilty of so great a crime. The least we expected was that the Government for which we had fought, and for which so many had given up their lives, was secured against the possibility of another conspiracy. But warned by history, and taught by our own experience among the misguided people of the South, we maintained our organizations, and now, in the forefront of another peril, congratulate ourselves upon the wisdom of that decision. So thoroughly have our military brothers reunited themselves that only a few who wore the Union blue can be induced to join the ranks of the rebel Democracy. Our camps extend east and west, from the Atlantic to the Pacific; and there is not a veteran who does not realize that the public danger may once more call him to the field. The alarming spectacle of a formal combination between the two great columns of treason—the rebel army of the South and the rebel sympathizers of the North—is the living proof of great impending calamities.—These desperate men—the one side still vaunting their treason against the country, and the other still boasting of the aid and comfort extended to them—profess to be confident of success in the approaching election. The animosity they bore to our beloved Commander-in-Chief—now the candidate of the great Republican party—survives the hollow gratitude with which they hailed his liberal terms of peace; and, now remembering only that he struck them in the field, and coldly forgetting how he forgave their great offence, they are toiling with superhuman energy to defeat him for the Presidency, and to place in that high office a fit successor of its present guilty occupant. Their hatred of Grant extends to all our heroic leaders, with one or two exceptions. The only offence of these accomplished soldiers is their fidelity to the country for which they fought. General George H. Thomas in Tennessee, General Irwin McDowell in Mississippi, General George G. Meade in Georgia, General Canby in South Carolina, and Gen. Reynolds in Texas, with their predecessors, Sheridan, Sickles, Pope, Swayne, and Mower, are proscribed and slandered, like common felons, while every Union man in the South, black and white, is subjected to unconcivable cruelty and oppression. This wholesale malevolence, looking directly to the restoration of the rebel governments teaches us not only the wisdom and justice of our organization, but invokes us to renewed efforts in favor of Grant and Colfax, the standard bearers of the Republican party, and for our gallant comrades, Hartranft and Campbell, our standard bearers in the State contests.

The fundamental ideas of this rebel combination are that nothing has been gained by the success of our arms, but that everything has been lost. To forget the sanctified dead, to ignore and outrage the gallant living, and to remember and reward those only whose crimes in and other nation would have been punished by death or emiliscation, is the inspiring motive of our adversaries. What American soldier does not feel the insult? What American citizen does not burn to resent it? Instead of cordially submitting to the laws passed by overwhelming Congressional majorities, and carried into effect for the grand purpose of reorganizing the South upon the basis of equal justice and equal rights our recent adversaries openly threaten a new resort to arms.

At no period in the rebellion have they been at once so defiant and so cruel. United in antagonism to the laws, to the national credit, to the national currency, to the public peace, and to those great principles for which we contended, and succeeded in maintaining, they coolly appeal to the people and ask a verdict in favor of their incredible crimes. Speaking now for the returned volunteers of Pennsylvania, who were disfranchised by the Democracy, we solemnly renew our devotion to our beloved country, and assert, not simply our readiness to support our candidates at the ballot-box, but our determination, at all times, to march to our Government's defence against her enemies.

By order of the Committee.

CHAS. H. T. COLLIS, Chairman.
A. L. RUSSELL, Secretary.

THE PHILADELPHIA MASONIC TEMPLE.—The ceremony of laying the corner stone of this new edifice was performed on St. John's day, with the usual imposing ceremonies of the order. A feature of the day was the procession, in which some eight thousand Masons were in line. Below we give some of the features of the new Temple. It will be of granite, the general characteristics of the architecture being the Norman Gothic. The front will be a combination of the Egyptian, Greek and Gothic styles of architecture, symbolic of the three orders of Masonry and the three orders of civilization under which the fraternity has existed. It will be three stories in height. A tower on the southwest corner will be two hundred feet in height, and the four corners will be surmounted with pinnacles with buttresses rising a considerable distance higher. On the first floor, raised eight feet from the ground, will be a hall twenty feet in width, running the entire length of the building from east to west, and from this will start two stairways, which will be the most magnificent of the kind in the United States.—The banqueting room will be one hundred and fifty feet, by fifty-five feet. The second story will contain the Grand Lodge, room for blue Lodges, a Grand Chapter room, and the requisite retiring and business rooms. The Grand Lodge room will be one hundred and fifty-three feet six inches. The prevailing color of the decorations will be blue relieved by gold, and it will in all probability be one of the most magnificent rooms in the world. The Blue Lodge rooms will be each fifty-nine by forty-three feet; the Grand Chapter room eighty-one by fifty-three feet. The third story is to contain rooms for various purposes, handsomely fitted up. The building throughout will be used for Masonic purposes only.

NEW STRIKE.—A new well was struck yesterday, on McMillen Farm, east side of the Allegheny River, on lease No. 58. It is flowing about one hundred and fifty barrels and is owned by Captain Thomas McDonough, formerly of Philadelphia.

The Orphan Schools—Annual Vacation.

We publish below a list of regulations issued by Colonel McFarland, State Superintendent, relative to the vacation in the Orphan Schools and Homes in the State. We bespeak for them a careful perusal at the hands of the mothers and friends of the orphans, as well as the public generally.

HARRISBURG, July, 3, 1868.

The regular annual vacation at the institution, receiving soldiers' orphans at the expense of the State, will commence on Friday, July 24th, and terminate on Monday, August 31st, school duties being resumed on Tuesday, September 1st.

The principals, superintendents and managers of these institutions will please observe the following regulations:

1. No child will be permitted to leave the institution to which it belongs without a written furlough or leave of absence, signed by the Superintendent of the Soldiers' Orphans, and countersigned by the principal superintendent or managers of the institution, specifying the cause of absence, and its length. This leave of absence, for which blanks have been furnished, to be carried by the child while absent, and shown whenever requested.

2. No leave of absence will be granted to any child, unless pronounced by the attending physician, after special examination had for the purpose, entirely free from sore eyes, and other contagious diseases. Upon their return, after vacation, children must be re-examined, and all doubtful cases isolated until known to be entirely cured. The presence of these vexatious and annoying diseases in any institution is regarded as an evidence of inexcusable neglect and mismanagement on the part of the attending physician and the authorities of such institution, and will not be tolerated.

3. No child will be sent home except at the written request of the mother, guardian or friends. All others must be furnished with proper care and attention, and permitted to enjoy vacation at the institution, free from study and labor, except such as may be necessary for the comfort of those remaining. The labor required must not exceed the regular detail period of two hours per day. The library and reading rooms and the play grounds must be open to them, under proper supervision, the remaining portion of the day.

Children should be conveyed to and from the proper railroad station free of charge. All other expenses of travel, and at home, must be borne by their mothers or friends.

4. No child will be deprived of vacation as a punishment, no matter what the nature of the offense may have been. To do so would be cruel. If in any case, as for instance where it is known that vacation would be spent amid bad associations and demoralizing influences if children were permitted to go home, principals, superintendents or managers think best to deny them the privilege, they must be able to produce the clearest proof of the existence of the facts upon which the denial is based.

5. Each girl will take with her, clean and in good condition, and legibly marked with her name, a change of underclothes and stockings, two dresses, hat, sack and shoes; and each boy, in like condition, a change of underclothes and stockings, two pairs of pants, one jacket, cap and shoes. All other clothing will remain at the institution, except in the case of transfers. Girls will not take their blue winter dresses.

The articles of clothing taken, with their condition, must be entered on the check to the furlough, and re-examined and checked off, with appropriate remarks as to care and condition when returned.

6. Those ordered by transfer to other schools will take their clothes, and will be instructed to go direct from their homes to the schools to which they are ordered, when their furloughs expire. Every article of clothing taken with its condition, will be entered on the check as a record, and on the back of the furlough for the information of the principal of the school to which they are transferred.

7. The objects of vacation should be explained to the children, and the duty and necessity of good conduct and care of clothing while absent, prompt return, &c., carefully and repeatedly impressed upon them.

It is hoped and believed that, with few exceptions, attention to study and industrial instruction, and to the cultivation of good manners and habits, has been attended with so much success that this visit home will be gratifying to mothers and friends, and creditable to the institutions to which these wards of the State belong. It is also hoped that after enjoying the cessation from study, and the visits to home and friends, which vacation allows, children will be promptly returned in good condition, gratified and refreshed, and encouraged to pursue, with renewed energy and zeal, the exercises of their respective schools and homes during the ensuing year. And if, notwithstanding past discouragements, these hopes are even partially realized, the fact will be regarded by the undersigned and his co-laborers as compensation, in some measure at least, for the severe labor, weighty responsibilities and constant anxieties of the past year, and as an encouragement to work with increased energy and hope to achieve still greater results in future.

GEO. F. M'FARLAND,
Superintendent Soldiers' Orphans.

Political Paragraphs.

The Democracy resolved in 1864 that the war was a failure. In 1868 they resolve that the war accomplished the extinction of slavery and of the heresy of secession.

The last sensation is that of the industrious correspondent of the Charleston Courier, who formally announces that General Grant contemplates withdrawing from the Presidential contest in favor of Salmon P. Chase. This would be a capital arrangement—almost equivalent to General Grant's withdrawal during the rebellion in favor of Robert E. Lee.

What the Democrats will not do, according to the New York Citizen, is thus stated.

The Democratic soldiers of the Union will not sustain any candidate whose election would be a censure of the four most important years of their individual lives—the years in which they served under the flag of our country.

"That good old Democrat," to use Senator Fowler's expression, Jefferson Davis, has just been joined by that other sound Democrat, John C. Breckinridge, and both are now in Canada watching the proceedings of the Democratic National Convention, in the result of which they are deeply interested.

The Eight Hour Law.

The following is the eight hour law which went into effect July 1st in this State:

Section 1. Be it enacted, &c., That on and after the first of July, eighteen hundred and sixty-eight, eight hours of labor, between the rising and setting of the sun, shall be deemed and held to be a legal day's work, in all cases of labor and service by the day, where there is no contract or agreement to the contrary.

Sec. 2. This act shall not apply or in any way affect farm or agricultural labor or service by the year, month or week; nor shall any person be prevented, by anything herein contained, from working as many hours overtime or extra work as he or she may see fit, the compensation to be agreed upon between the employer and employe.

Sec. 3. All other acts or parts of acts relating to the hours of labor which shall constitute a day's work in this State are hereby repealed.

THE appraisement of the personal property of the late James Buchanan, as filed in the Register's office of Lancaster county, sums up a total estimate of the value of $330,582. The wines and liquors on hand were worth $800. He had bonds of the Pennsylvania railroad, of Hamilton county, O.; of railroads and mining companies in the Western, Middle and Eastern States, of the State of Virginia, of the State of Pennsylvania, a large amount of bonds and mortgages, bank stocks, a deposit of $8,300 with the banking house of Baring, London; but not one dollar in the bonds of the United States. There is a pertinent significance in this fact. The ex-President had no faith in the Government which he administered, and as he expected to be the last of the Presidents he could not be expected to risk any of his fortune in a nation which he believed about to undergo an entire change of government, from a democracy to a monarchy.

MR. HORATIO SEYMOUR's high-sounding declaration, in his recent New York speech, that "$800,000,000 had been expended for the army and navy since the close of the war, is collapsed by the authoritive statement of Mr. Blaine, on the floor of the House, "that $625,000,000 of this amount had been expended immediately after Lee's surrender, in mustering out a million soldiers and fifty thousand sailors, discharging the Government's obligations to them for back pay, bounty and prize money."

THE WARREN COUNTY NOMINATIONS.—The Republican party of Warren county has put in the field the following ticket:

For Congress, Glenni W. Scofield, of Warren county. (Subject to the decision of the Congressional Convention.) For Assembly, Junius H. Clark, Warren county. For County Treasurer, John Thomas, Warren. For County Commissioner, R. H. Morrison, Deerfield. For County Surveyor, Henry Cobham, Warren. For County Auditor, A. S. Deming, Spring Creek.—For Trustee of Warren Academy, I. H. Hiller, Conewango.

The "Crawford County System" was defeated in the Convention chiefly through the voice and votes of the delegates from the farming districts. They claimed that under its operations they could not get out anything like a full vote in their townships, thus giving undue influence and weight to the boroughs and villages where the inhabitants are easy of access.

"They made her a grave too cold and damp
For a soul so honest and true."

If they had been wise, the dire necessity of opening the grave for one so lovely might have been averted. Plantation Bitters, if timely used, are sure to rescue the young and lovely, the middle aged and the ailing, from confirmed sickness.

Almost all diseases have their beginning in some slight difficulty of the Stomach, which would eventuate in Dyspepsia, Headache, Liver Complaint, Night Sweats, Consumption, Death. Plantation Bitters will prevent these premonitory symptoms, and keep the blood pure and the health good.

While they invigorate the system, they enliven the mind.

To Business Men.

The Titusville MORNING HERALD has now a circulation of nearly ONE THOUSAND COPIES in Crawford and Venango counties. Hence Business Men can see at once its peculiar advantages as an Advertising medium. They can thus present their invitations to buy to the very class of readers who have the money to buy with, and who are sure to seek that market which seems to present the most inducements. The only way for business men to increase their business and attract custom is to let the public know what they have to sell, and familiarize the public eye with their names and business location. This can only be done by constant and judicious advertising.

It obviates all the difficulties arising from that used in the well. There is no seam in the leather to rip or burst. Nearly 100 of them are now in use; and testimony is made to Geo. E. Bakewell, A. A Library of Universal Information.

THE NEW

AMERICAN CYCLOPÆDIA:

A Popular Dictionary of General Knowledge.

EDITED BY

GEORGE RIPLEY AND CHARLES A. DANA,

AIDED BY A HUNDRED SELECT CORPS OF WRITERS, IN ALL BRANCHES OF SCIENCE, ART AND LITERATURE.

In 16 large octavos, first

750 double-column pages in each volume.

The leading claims to public consideration which the New American Cyclopædia possesses may be thus briefly stated:

"1. It surpasses all other works in the fullness and ability of the articles relating to the United States.

"2. No other work contains so many reliable biographies of the leading men of this and other nations. In this respect it is far superior even to the more bulky Encyclopædia Britannica.

"3. The best minds in this country have been employed in enriching its pages with the latest data, and the most recent discoveries in every branch of manufactures, mechanics, and general science.

"4. It is a library in itself, where every topic is treated, and where information can be gleaned which will enable a student, if he is so disposed, to consult other authorities, thus affording him an invaluable key to knowledge.

"5. It is neatly printed, with readable type, on good paper, and contains a most copious index.

"6. It is the only work which gives anything approaching correct descriptions of cities and towns of America, or contains reliable statistics showing the wonderful growth of our sections."

Every one that reads, every one that mingles in society, is constantly meeting with allusions to subjects on which he needs and desires further information. In conversation, in trade, in professional life, on the farm, in the family, practical questions are continually arising, which no man, however well informed, can always satisfactorily answer. If a Cyclopædia or reference are at hand, they are consulted, and not only is the curiosity gratified and a want of knowledge removed, but perhaps information is gained and ideas are suggested that will directly or indirectly contribute to the success of the party concerned.

A Cyclopædia is pre-eminently the work for our country and generation. This is the age of steam. No one has time to grope among a hundred different works for every little fact required, without the certainty of finding it at last. With a Cyclopædia, embracing every conceivable subject, and having its topics alphabetically arranged, not a moment is lost. The matter in question is found at once, digested, condensed, stripped of all that is irrelevant and unnecessary, and verified by a comparison of the best authorities. Moreover, while only men of fortune can collect a library complete in all the departments of knowledge, a Cyclopædia worth in itself for purposes of reference at least a thousand volumes, is within the reach of all,—the clerk, the merchant, the professional man, the farmer, the mechanic. In a country like ours, where the humblest may be called to responsible positions requiring intelligence and general information, the value of such a work cannot be over-estimated.

The Honorable NATHAN K. HALL, Judge.

JACOB H. SHEAR & JOSEPH PACKARD, vs GEORGE B. BULL & JOHN M. ROCKWELL. } In Equity.

It is further ordered, adjudged and decreed, that a perpetual injunction be issued in this suit against the defendants, restraining them from further infringement of said Patent No. 61,406, dated Jan. 29th, 1867, for improvements in cooking stoves, pursuant to and in accordance with the prayer of the Bill of Complaint.

(Signed) A. A. BOYCE, Clerk.
